TUESDAY EVENING, JULY 30, 1895.

THE BALTIMORE Sun, aware of the fact that the vast majority of the democrats of its State are opposed to mugwumpery, cuts the bridges behind it, and now says there must be no compromise with the regular democracy, and, in effect, that the Cleveland democrats of Maryland must follow the example of those of New York last fall, and do all that lies in their power to defeat the ticket to be nominated by the State democratic convention. Fortunately for the democratic party, there are not so many federal offices in Maryland as there are in New York, and the administration's influence is not so

Nor only those who have attended lectures at the University of Virginia, but thousands of others throughout the South, and many also in the North. regret the death of Professor Minor of that institution. He was unquestionably one of the best teachers of law this country has produced, and his place can not easily be filled. He was an old man, and held a chair at the University from 1845 until his death, and in all that time received, and deserved, the highest respect of all who had been his pupils, and of thousands of others in every quarter of the South.

THE CREDIBILITY of the statement in a Washington newspaper that President Cleveland will not accept another renomination, is weakened by its supplement, that he would not have been a candidate in '92 except that his declination "would have played so completely into the hands of the faction of his party in his State opposed to him." People who thoroughly understand the President, Mr. Whitney for instance, know that it is interest in his own welfare, and not in that of either faction or party, that influences his actions.

REV. Dr. Brady, in his sermon at the People's Temple in Boston last Sunday night, spoke in complimentary terms of ex-President Harrison and Governor McKinley, both of whom he stated were A. P. A.'s, or had endorsed that organization. And yet there are for eign born citizens and Catholics who are so utterly oblivious of the true spirit of American liberty, even in respect of themsevles, that they would vote for either of the two prominent republicans referred to, if he were the republican Presidential candidate.

THE comptroller of the currency must either think that the national banks in Alexandria can better afford taxation than those in Baltimore, or else, that they require more watching, for while the banks of this city are examined twice a year, those of the Monumental city are examined only once. The former supposition must affect him, as the credit of the Alexandria banks, not only here, but at the Treasury Department, is what is known as "gilt-edged." The banks have to pay the whole cost of the examinations.

Some of Secretary Smith's friends say his recent speeches on the silver question in Georgia have been productive of almost as much good as those of Secretary Carlisle in Kentucky, but they don't yet say that a majority of the voters of his State are not for free so goes without saying, for Georgia was in the Southern Confederacy, and the 1-sson of cheap money her people learned during the existence of that short lived nation should be remembered longer than one generation.

MR. MONCURE D. Conway, in his report to an English anti-lynching society, does not doubt that Ida Wells and the committee referred to have had a good effect in the United States, and says that negro lynching and its inciting crime have now almost disappeared. And yet Mr. Conway is a native of the South, but having taken the part of her enemies in the war between the States, his prejudices against her still blind his eyes to her true condition.

AN UNFORTUNATE OCCURRENCE AT A FU-NEBAL .- During the burial services over the remains of the late Mr. John Griffith, in Hollywood Cemetery Sunday afternoon, a very unfortunate incident occurred, and it has since been much discussed, and common ru-mor has given a distorted version of the true facts.

It seems that Mr. Griffith was an honored member of Anawan Tribe of Red Men, and w ile he had been in sympathy if not in ofession a Baptist, on his death-hed he was confirmed by a Cathonic priest, his daughter being a member of that denomination.

FROM WASHINGTON. [Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, July 30. The condition of the negro colonists from Georgia and Alabama who deserted the Tlahualilo colony in Mexico has been greatly improved. Assistant Surgeon Ten Eyck, U. S. A., who was sent to care for those of the colonists who are ill, has telegraphed that nearly 200 of of the distressed negroes arrived at Eagle Pass Sunday and that eight of them, who are ill with variola, have been closely quarantined by the Texas State health authorities.

The following dispatch from the headquarters of the department of the Platte, Omaha, was received by General Schofield at army headquarters this morning: Market Lake, July 29th. A courier who arrived at Market Lake this morning reports that when he left General Coppinger's troops last night information had just been brought in by a runner from Marysville that all was quiet there. The Lemhi agent telegraphs that only three of his Indians are supposed to be in the Jackson Hole country, and that there is no indication that others will join the uprising there.

It is announced that work will begin at once on the construction of the Washington and Baltimore Boulevard Electric Line, bids for the construction of which were opened last Saturday. W. K. Schoepf, manager of two local street railroad lines, has resigned that position to become manager of the proposed boulevard road. Henry T. Douglass, city commissioner of Baltimore, will be the engineer of the new line. The road will be about 40 miles long and it is proposed to have it completed next summer.

A large number of the Maryland democrats, sojourning here, will go to Baltimore to-morrow to attend the State democratic convention to be held there that day, and to swell the crowd of Senator Gorman's friends and admirers. The feeling of the democrats here, except that of those who hold offices under the administration, is unanimously in favor of the Senator and of the regular Maryland democracy, and against the mugwumps who are at-tempting to weaken the effectiveness of the party there, as they did in New York last fall, and to turn the State over to the control of the republicans.

The newspaper statement to the effect that Mr. Cleveland does not desire a renomination is discredited here, and those who know the character of the President say that he wants a renomination, but would rather have it from the people, irrespective of party, than from any one political organization. But it is also said that the reports of those who were sent to spy out the land, including Secretary Lamont, are not as favorable as were expected, owing to the natural opposition of democrats to the prolonged retention of office, and that unless the prospect shall greatly improve during the next few months, the President will be content to "rest from his labors," In that case, the present impression here is that ex-Secretary Whitney will be the nominee, and that though the South may not fancy his gold money ideas, it will support him, as it cannot afford to run the risk of a return to the dire days of reconstruction.

The suit of Milton vs. Kingsley, pending for the past year in the Su-preme Court of District of Columbia, was to-day decided by Justice Hagner in favor of Milton. This suit was brought by Milton for recision of contract and to annul an assignment to Kingsley of an interest in the Milton smoke burner invention, on the ground of fraud and violation of contract. J. J. Darlington represented Milton, and Judge J. M. Wilson appeared for Kingsley. A Fairfax county democrat here today says that while there were many democrats in that county who desired their countyman, Mr. Willard, to be a

It is said here that he intends to take full control of it, and in priof of this it is mentioned that he has not invited at least one of the members of the republican committee of the State to attend the conference, and J. M. Langston, the negro ex-Congressman from his district, said this morning that he had not been invited.

The police every where have been put on the watch for Smoot, and it is expected here that he will be caught.

KILLED BY HIS WIFE'S LOVER .- A dispatch from Tallahassee, Fla., says: The killing of John and Charles Adams by Joseph Stafford, which has been briefly noted, proves to have been a meet remarkable tragedy. It is stated that Stafford and Mrs. John Adams were lovers, and had met at the lake, Stafford being in a boat. They were surprised by the woman's husband, John Adams, and his brother, Charles Adams, who were also in a boat. Mrs. Adams leaped out and Stafford rowed off, the brothers pursuing. Both Stafford and his pursuers were armed, and they soon began firing from the boats. Stafford was not touched, but he killed both the brothers. He then towed the boat with the corpses to the shore. Stafford has surrendered, and claims self-defence, and. as, reports say, Mrs. Adams alone saw the tragedy, it is difficult to see what can be done with him. It occurred in a remote section of the country, and details come slowly. The coroner is now investigating.

DEATH OF PROF. MINOR. John B. Minor, LL. D., professor of common and statute law in the University of Virginia, died yesterday afternoon. His condition yesterday morning was so critical that the lectures in the summer schools were suspended. At 2 o'clock he was conscious and recog-nized all his friends. Later he was unconscious, and his dissolution was rapid and his end, like his life, was peaceful. Mr. Minor was entering upon his eighty-third year, having been born June 9, 1813, in the county of Louisa. His early education was acquired at Kenyon College, in Ohio. Later he pursued academical and legal studies at the University of Virginia. Leaving college, he resided first in Bedford county and then in Albermarle, at whose bar he began the practice of law with his brother, the late Lucien Minor. Mr. Minor succeeded St. George Tucker as professor of law at the University of Virginia. He was then thirty-two years of age and little known. This year he completed a half century of work for the University of Virginia and for the profession of law which has made his name an honored one throughout Virginia and famous among the earned in law throughout the world, which knew him as an able expounder of legal science. It was while he was a student at the University of Virginia that he married the daughter of Prof. John A. G. Davis. The fruit of this marriage was a son, who died at the age of seventeen, and a daughter, Miss Mary Minor. The second Mrs. Minor was a Miss Colston, and their children, John B. Minor, jr., Raleigh Colston Minor, Mrs. Conway W. Sams, of Nor-tolk; Mrs. Wilson, of Pittsburg; and Miss Nannie Minor. The present Mrs. Minor was Miss Ellen Hill, a sister of Mrs. Dr. John Staige Davis. Prof. onds. Minor's principal writings are a synopsis of the common law and statutes of England, the United States, and Virginis, known as "Minor's Institutes," and a synopsis of criminal law, all of which are used as text-books at the University of Virginia. Senator Daniel said last June at the unveiling of the Minor bust: "I do not believe his superior as a law teacher ever existed."

GEN. WM. MAHONE.

A representative of the Free Lance called on Gen. William Mahone at his residence in Petersburg Friday for the purpose of obtaining from him an interview on the questions that will be prominent in the coming campaign next fall in Virginia. The General received the representative most cordially, and the following answers to the questions which precede them show what he thinks of matters that are of interest to all Virginians:

Do you favor a fusion of the republicans and populists in the coming campaign?

I favor the fusion of all men as citizents who honestly desire free, fair and truthful returns in all elections, as the only means of restoring the people to their confiscated liberties, and the restoration of the State to a truly republican form of government.

Would you make the question of honest ballot laws the one issue, or

I would. It is paramount, for the people really have no voice, not only as to who shall be their constable or Governor, but no means of recording their will upon any question, whether of finance, tariff or taxation, under the existing election law. The machine echoes merely the predetermined will of the oligarchy. The machine democracy gave us, in response to a very general demand of the people for a reformation of the election law whereby honest elections might come, the so-called Walton amendment, which while shielding the wrong-doing licensed by the Anderson-McCormick law, as at Smither's precinct for a specimen brick, added another opportunity for wholesale wrong-doing, by turning over the large illiterate vote of the State to the tender mercy of a partisan constable.

Do you think a constitutional convention necessary, or do you think the coming legislature competent to make any needed amendments? Ought State taxation to be kept at its present rate, or will it be increased, or can it be re-

TO-DAY'S TELEGRAPHIC NEWS

LONDON, July 30 .- The cabinet meet ing held to-day was short, the business before it being confined to consideration of the Queen's speech, which, it is understood, is very brief and contains few if any recommendations. The document merely summons Parliament to meet and consider the matter of voting supplies, leaving the details of the of the new government to be presented at the next session. The feeling in regard to the choice of a speaker of the Hoase of Commons for the next Parliament is decidedly in favor of the re-election of Mr. Gully.

VIENNA, July 30 .- The Bulgarian deputation, which was sent by Prince Ferdinand to St. Petersburg for the purpose of obtaining Russia's recognition of the present Bulgarian govern-ment, arrived here this morning en route for Sofia. Prince Ferdinand having become convinced that Bulgaria could not exist without the friendship and moral aid of Russia, is prepared to make all the sacrifices necessary to secure Russia's good will. A reconciliation has already been ef fected, and Bulgaria will soon have an orthodox dynasty.

She had been gone but a few minutes when two Italian boys who live in the same tene ment came running up to her and told her that her little Joe had fallen out of the window and was killed. Upon hearing this she ran to the scene and when she saw her babe lying dead in the yard in the rear of the house she became hysterical from grief. She stood over the lifeless body of her child for a movement, then realizing what had happened hurried to the barber shop of her husband. On entering the shop, she went to the razor case and extracting a razor, slashed her throat with it before her dumbfounded husband could divine her purpose. The mother was removed to the hos-

THE MASSEY-PILOT SUIT. A statement was sent out from Norfolk several days ago that the attorneys' fees in the Massey suit would aggregate $36,000 and that Mr. Massey expenses were paid by the American Book Company. Both statements are wide of the fact. Attorney Thom re-quested the Richmond State to say that not one cent of Mr. Massey's expenses were paid by the American Book Company or any body else, but that the expenses were all borne by the old man. As for the attorneys' fees, it is understood that Mr. Massey paid his three lawyers as a retainer $500 each. In addition to this there were the traveling expenses of his attorneys, his own expenses in Norfolk and various other incidentals which will make a total of perhaps one thousand dollars. It is to be presumed, too, that his attorneys have a contingent fee, so that even if the amount of damages assesse against the defendants is paid, Mr. Massey will be the loser by more than a thousand dollars.

Mr. Wise was employed, it is understood, by Ginn & Co., the rival book concern, and his fee is variously esti-mated at from one to five thousand dollars. This, however, is a mere guess as is also the fee of Judge Heath and his son. But the statement of $36,000

It was generally conceded that Mr. Wise did his case more harm than good gards the general public, and many people who were not in sympathy with Mr. Massey openly declared that Wise's speech had converted them and that, were they on the jury, they would give the plaintiff heavy damages.

Mr. Thom's arraignment of Mr. Wise was very severe and the latter was very red in the face, when reference to his intense hatred of Massey was made, but he did not call down his critic in this connection—Richmond State.

SENTENCED TO THE PENITENTIARY The case against Dr. W. E. Perry, con victed in Charlestown, W. Va., last Friday of assault on Miss Rosa J. Johnson, was heard yesterday on the motion for a new trial before Judge Faulkner in the Circuit Court. The prisoner was brought into court. His counsel based the motion upon seven grounds of errors. The prosecuting attorney resisted the motion. One of the grounds was additional evidence, counsel for prisoner filing affidavits of two wit-nesses that stated Miss Johnston told them she had a dream about what occurred in Dr. Perry's office. Counter affidavits were filed on behalf of the prosecution. After full argument Judge Faulkner stated that he saw no reason for granting a new trial and overruled the motion. An exception was taken. The prisoner was then asked if he had anything to say before sentence was pronounced and replied "Your honor I am not guilty." Judge Faulkner then reviewed the case and sentenced the accused to fourteen years in the penitentiary. Dr. Perry took his sentence calmly. A stay was granted to allow application to the Court of Appeals, which meets in Charleston in September, for a writ of error.

The date fixed for the de-parture of this tour is August 20, and the round-trip rate of $100 from Washington will cover all necessary expenses. A beauti-ful descriptive itinerary can be procured from the Broad Street Station, Philadelphia.

Frank P. Smoot, a confidential clerk in the employ of Henry L. Biscoe, a lumber dealer in Washington, has disappeared, and with him $2,000 of his em loyer's money. The defalcation occurr d last Friday, but the matter was not reported to the police until Sunday, by which time Smoot had made good his escape from the city. There is no clew to his whereabouts.

James Richardson, a Maryland farmer, shot and severely wounded William Craiglowe, his father-in-law, late last Saturday night on the Broad Creek road near Centreville, Prince George's county, Md. The weapon used was shot gun, heavily charged with No. 8 shot, and the cause of the shooting was due to Craiglowe's interference between leges."

The Norfolk Pilot says that counsel for the defense will appeal the case, her husband.

due to Craiglowe's interference between his daughter, Richardson's wife, and her husband.
